Late Delivery, Lost Delivery

In the unlikely event that the delivery carrier does not deliver your order on time or loses your order, Phillips Precision, Inc. may file a claim on your behalf, but cannot be held accountable for that loss. All orders are shipped with insurance for this reason and the carriers accept full liability for these orders. The claims process for both UPS and Fed-Ex is based on their standard policies upon opening an investigation. In most cases packages are located and delivered as quickly as possible. Refunds for late deliveries are at the discretion of the carrier.
